SPORTS

SPORT DOPE.

BY HAL SHERIDAN.

(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Can he do it? Can Jack Coombs, famed as an "iron man" wherever baseball is known, succeed where Jim Jeffries and innumerable other sporting celebrities have failed? Can he come back?

That is the question which sport critics and lovers are pondering over. Can the man who once mowed down batsmen in world's series battles the same as in exhibition games put over the same brand of stuff, the same weird assortment of flickering white flashes, that once earned him the sobriquet of "iron man"?

Wilbert Robertson and Charley Ebbets would like to know. They have taken the chance and signed the veteran for 1915, and before many months have rolled by they will be able to answer all interrogators as to whether Jack Coombs can come back.

From 1896 until 1912 Coombs' name was perhaps the most feared of any pitcher. Jumping into the big league from a scintillating path of victories at Colby college, Coombs started the baseball world after he had been in the league but a few weeks by pitching and winning a twenty-four inning game against the Boston Red Sox. The score was 4 to 1. It is the longest major league game on record.

Coombs' real fame came in 1910 when he shattered several records. His record at the close of the season showed him with thirty-two victories and but nine defeats. Not satisfied with that, he broke another American league record by shutting out his opponents thirteen times and wound up the season in a blaze of glory by pitching fifty-three consecutive scoreless innings.

Coombs continued his patch of glory until the 1911 world's series when he was severely injured. In 1912 he recovered enough to win 21 out of 31 games, but since that time has pitched but two full games, winning one and losing one.

CHIEF OF THE DIVISION AND HIS STAFF ARE TAKEN PRISONERS.

Hay Column in the Caucasus Makes a Dash Across the Crest of the Mountains, Taking Much Booty—Turks Try Counter Attack But Are Decisively Repulsed.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 1.—The following report from the general staff of the Russian army of the Caucasus was given out:

"On the Sari-Kayah front, on the evening of January 27, one of our columns, profiting by a snow storm, crossed the crest of the mountains and seized after a violent struggle, the village of Garness, making prisoners there the chief of the Thirteenth Turkish division, with his staff, 16 officers, seven surgeons and 450 others, and capturing three cannon, more than 200 rifles, a convoy train and a large quantity of war munitions and provisions.

"The next day the Turks attacked this column, but were repulsed by a counter attack with great losses, abandoning to us a rapid-fire gun."

EUROPEAN PINES MENACE TO NURSERY STOCK

Public Hearing on the Question of Prohibiting Importations Announced.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Because of the danger to American nursery stock a public hearing will be held February 2, 1915, at the Department of Agriculture to discuss a proposed quarantine on the importation of all pines from Europe. During the past year imported pines have been found to be infested with the European pine shoot moth. In Europe this is one of the principal insect enemies of pines and is especially destructive in nurseries, young forests, and ornamental plantations. It kills or injures the young twig growth and deforms the tree to a serious extent.

In this country the insect seems to be still confined to the European pines in Connecticut, Illinois, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and West Virginia. Strenuous efforts are already being made to stamp it out and it is believed that these will be successful if no further importations of infested stock are permitted.

The white pine blister rust has already resulted in the exclusion of all five-leaved pines from Europe and Asia. The proposed quarantine will extend this prohibition to all classes of pines from Europe. No restriction is proposed on the importation of pine seed.

Woman Dies Cranking Car.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Joseph H. Simpson, aged 35, of Evergreen road, died in the home of Mrs. Harriet Monahan, at 6701 Thomas boulevard, from heart disease.

Mrs. Simpson had been calling on Mrs. Monahan and left for her home. She went to her automobile, standing in Thomas boulevard, and when she stooped to crank the machine she was seized with convulsions. She was carried into Mrs. Monahan's home. Dr. S. H. Adams of 7032 Hamilton avenue, was called, but she died a few minutes after the doctor arrived.

No Longer State Printer

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 28.—The supreme court dismissed the case brought by W. C. Francis et al against Chris Schuman et al to test the right of R. A. Harris, as the state printer, to enter into an agreement to employ union help in the state printing plant. The court finds that the reason for the injunction prayed for to restrain Harris has ceased to exist, inasmuch as he is no longer state printer, and that if it were granted it would be useless.

MISS LIBERMAN, A SENSATION AT PALM BEACH

This is a photograph of Miss Liberman, a belle of Palm Beach, in her newest bathing suit. Miss Liberman thinks it is the cutest thing in Florida during this gay winter season, where the temperature of the water is as high now as the temperature of the air in many northern cities during the summer.

Even in Palm Beach where the outer becomes the commonplace, Miss

Liberman succeeded in creating a sensation when she appeared on the beach in what she calls her "zebra leg" costume. She is a substantial and solid young woman who delights in the water. She did not say, however, if this costume was to be endangered by actual bathing, but it has been seen on the beach long enough to cause many other women to envy her.

Stories From the War Zone

OSTEND.—There is one characteristic of the British soldier that has not yet ceased to astonish the good peasant folk of France and Belgium. At one British camp an old Flemish woman, after watching a number of the soldiers brushing their teeth, exclaimed: "My goodness, what have they eaten that they are obliged to scour their mouths in this fashion."

MELBOURNE.—Two recent arrivals from Whitty, England, who were working inland, upon hearing of the German naval bombardment of that town, immediately threw up their jobs and booked by the first steamer for England to enlist.

AMSTERDAM.—The much advertised German war loan apparently is

YOUTHS TO LEARN HOW TO PROSPECT FOR GOLD

GOLDEN, COLO., Jan. 30.—A school for the education of prospectors in primary lessons in geology, mineralogy and tests for minerals in the field and for the promotion of intelligent prospecting will be opened in February at the Colorado School of Mines here. Old mining men of the state believe the school will revive interest in prospecting and some express the hope that the instruction and stimulus imparted by the school may lead to the discovery of another Cripple Creek and another mining boom in this state.

The school is the first of the kind to be established in connection with an institution like the School of Mines.

In addition to the lectures, laboratory instruction will be given.

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; this has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experiences which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.
